Reviews

A whole new eBook with a brand new point of view. It is definitely simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the publication. I am just pleased to explain how this is the greatest ebook i have read during my very own daily life and could be he best ebook for possibly.

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Pocahontas and the Dawn of Our Nation In 1914, while making inquiries about the history of Dover, New Jersey, I entered upon a correspondence with Mrs. Althea Fitz Randolph Bedle, of Jersey City, widow of Hon. Joseph D. Bedle, a former Governor of New Jersey. From her I obtained genealogical notes of the Fitz Randolph family, represented in this section by Hartshorne Fitz Randolph, from whom our Randolph Township takes its name. Seeing that I was interested in historical matters, Mrs. Bedle sent me a poem that she had begun on Pocahontas, the Indian princess of Virginia, asking me to assist in the revision and completion of the poem. The character and personality of Pocahontas were very near and dear to Mrs. Bedle s heart, and she has described her heroine with a woman s sympathy and enthusiasm, and with true poetic feeling. Her version of the story was completed in about two hundred lines. My attention being thus called to this subject, I took up, in my summer vacation, the study of the original narratives of the settlement of Jamestown, and began to turn the whole history into a narrative poem, placing the various events in chronological order, as I disentangled them from the various independent sources. Mrs. Bedle was greatly interested in this historical development of the subject and did everything in her power to assist me in carrying out the plan of a longer poem that should supplement her own work. I afterwards reduced my long narrative poem to a shorter lyric version of about six hundred lines, omitting much of the detail. For the substance of these historical poems I am...
