Theatre Metropole Books, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 133 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .The volume opens with the comedy Car Door Shave, set in the Hobo Jungle on the outskirts of Ventura, California, in 1984. There, the de facto leader of the semi-permanent homeless encampment, the Vietnam veteran Cappy, basks in relative freedom and touts a philosophy of life that is informed by the writing of sexologist Wilhelm Reich. One day equilibrium in the camp is threatened when a number of people show up: a young woman looking for her birth-mother, a county social worker snooping around to see what is exactly going on in the camp, a couple of archconservatives who want to plow the camp under, and a woman who s just been released early from prison and who says she only has come to pick up her stuff. There is more: Huey, a 30 year-old immigrant from Southeast Asia, lives in the camp solely because she is in love with Cappy (the love is not returned). Also, Kevin, who is second-in-command, is battling AIDS though most in silence. A surprise appearance by the ghost of a particular American president (not to be revealed in this summary) rounds out the play. A dinosaur dig in the majestic Rocky Mountains in Colorado is the main setting in Gambling Fever. The landscape is strangely evocative of what we might broadly describe as The Heroic. Yet the three people working in the excavation pit are quiet types (more or less) and would prefer to be left alone to work. Victoria, a supermarket heiress, and the owner of the property on which the dig is taking place, has other ideas. She granted permission to the head scientist to excavate because she...
